NAVY COMMENDS MILLER FOR PART IN TEXAS FIRE

Joseph B. (Sorny) Miller Jr., son of Mrs. Mirville H. Miller, 326 S. Montezuma, and Joseph B. Miller, 326 S. Montezuma, Bay St. Louis, has received a letter of commendation from the commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Kingsville, Tex. for his part in combating a fire at the Humble Oil and Refining Company's King Ranch Gas Plant. In his letter to Miller, Capt. Carl H. Yeagle, C. O. said, "It has been brought to my attention that while you were standing crash crew duty on Dec. 18, 1964, you responded, with other crash crew personnel, to a potentially devastating fire at the King Ranch Gas Plant. By demonstrating a high degree of firefighting skill and competence, you were instrumental in containing and extinguishing the fire. "Your courage, risk of personal safety in the face of danger, and dedication to duty in fighting the fire helped to prevent the loss of the multi-million dollar installation. "With a feeling of extreme pride I extend my personal congratulations on your outstanding performance of duty. I am proud and gratified to work with a crash crew member of your skill, proficiency and courage. Your attention to duty is in keeping with the highest tradition of the naval service. "The blaze centered around a 6,000-barrel oil tank that caught fire after an overflow was ignited by a super-heated steam line, and it spread to nearby pipelines and other processing facilities. More than 100 firemen fought a 12-hour battle to bring the million dollar conflagration under control.

Supervisors Report On Work During 1964

During 1964, County Boards of Supervisors awarded 15.3 million dollars of State Aid road contracts, which provided for more than 500 miles of improvement under Mississippi's State Aid Road Program.

The announcement was recently made by Frank T. Moore, State Aid Engineer, who stated that the 1964 contracts were made up of 181 projects providing for 393 miles of grading and bituminous surfacing and an additional 114 miles of gravel surface. The State Aid System provides for 23,312 miles, or about 46% of the total County road mileage.

Revenue for the program currently amounts to about 13.3 million dollars per year. However, legislation authorizing the issuance of bonds against anticipated revenues has been passed during the past two years. It is estimated that the contract volume for 1965 will be approximately 17.0 million dollars.

County Boards of Supervisors adopt annual construction programs, award contracts, and furnish engineering and rights-of-way. The State Aid Division coordinates the program by approving plans, specifications, contracts, construction, and maintenance.

Weekend with cold and fresh water fish on the fly rod and believe it or not they were on surface baits. While perch and crappie were the main catch, a few bass and bluegills were also taken. As for speckle, real nice ones were taken on the railroad bridge, Jordan River before over. They were also Shad Big and pligs.

Over in Louisiana the river are clear. Green perch are being caught. The water is good. Do in Louisiana unless a Louisiana fishing license is on either side. Fishing is proper but not in proper. However if you in Louisiana a license is required at the fishing. The cost is $5.25 for a license good only until June.

It pays to join the Hole in one Club at Pass Christian Golf Club. Well, it's happened again. Someone else has scored a hole in one and they didn't have their $1 in the HIO club. Earlene Russo is the latest "unlucky" golfer. She scored No. 17.

A membership drive has started at the Pass Christian Golf Club. There is a limited number of openings on the membership rolls. Revised membership applications are available from Louis Tregre, club manager, John David, membership chairman, or any member of the Board of Directors. If you would like to join the club get in touch with any of these men. You'll be glad you did.

Luke Elliott was down from Baton Rouge last weekend and with August Rauxet and his Dad made some good catches of green trout.

Anthony Enterante Jr., of New Orleans has been too busy to come over to do any fishing lately. Tony is to be married shortly. He is going to marry Miss Caroline Grevenberg the daughter of former Bay St. Louis residents.

Don't complain too much about the weather. It is found to get better soon.

Tommy Locke the new linotype operator for the Hancock County Eagle is a new comer to the Bay. Tommy has his family with him. We understand he is a lover of sports and will join the fishing ranks soon. Welcome to our midst Tommy.

Russell Jones is always talking about going fishing but doesn't do anything about it. Better get on the ball Russell, they are a-artin to hit like they should.

Just a reminder again. Better get that old floundering and soft-crabbing light put in good shape. By the end of this month you will need it. A good season is expected.

FORESTRY NOTES
Mississippi's forest resources provided the basis for 44 percent of the state's industrial developments during 1964, according to a statement released by State Forester Jack Holman of the Forestry Commission.

During the year, a total of 110 new plant and expansion were announced. Of these, 45 plants will use wood and wood products as major raw materials. Of the 65 jobs to be provided by these developments, more than 3,200 will be in wood-using industries.

These developments show that the 37 years of hard-won progress in forestry since creation of the Mississippi Forestry Commission in 1926 are paying handsome dividends. The increasing quantity and quality of timber available is creating a base for more new industry and more jobs. Mississippi was a land of timber famine in the early 1930's when value of manufactured forest products hit an all-time low of 50 million dollars. Timber products produced in recent years have risen well above 500 million dollars, which is more than $1,000 per family in the state.

The Forestry Commission, in cooperation with the A & I Board, assisted 37 different groups engaged in industrial development work and provided information to 50 prospective industries seeking to build new plants or expand during 1964. In addition, technical assistance in manufacturing, procurement and marketing was given to 40 firms.

"Without the development of improved forestry practices on many of the 133,000 small owner-ships, which include about 70 per cent of the forest land in the state, the 45 new plants and expansions in wood-using industries would have gone to other states," emphasized Holman.

The mushrooming of wood-using industries has included new types of plants such as pine stud mills and pine plywood mills, in addition usual types of plants such as lumber mills, paper mills, box plants and furniture factories.

Mississippi, in 1964, completed the second best year in history from a fire protection standpoint, according to Forestry Commission records. These show a total of 6,026 forest fires which burned 56,948 acres during the year. Although the average fire was held to 9.3 acres and less than 1/4 of one percent of the protected forest acres were burned, Mississippi still has more fires and more acres burned than 11 western states combined.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

MEND BEFORE WASHING
Keep a sewing basket near your laundry area, and make "mending before washing" a rule in your house.

If you have to mend damask, use a thread pulled from the top of a hem. Re-weave or darn the tear with the "shell" thread, which will blend in inconspicuously.

If the seams of cotton socks break, draw the edges together. But don't overlap the new stitches. Socks should have no ridges to cause discomfort.

If a child's garment is badly torn, mend it with press-on tape in various colors, cut in different shapes to form a pattern. Then finish the edges with zigzag stitching.

BE CAREFUL WITH HOME CHEMICALS
You can use chemicals safely in and around your home, but only if you know the hazards they bring and the precautions you must follow.

One rule you must never forget regarding all home chemicals is that you must keep them out of reach or grasp of children, just as you do medicines and drugs.

Read the label and follow the recommended precautions, even when they appear in small print, on containers of solvents and cleaners, bleaches, paint and paint removers, home textile dyes, hair and beauty aids, and fuels such as gasoline, oil, gas or charcoal.

Many other substances that can be dangerous are often found in homes. For example, lye is used for opening plugged sink drains. Anti-freeze used in automobile cooling systems, regardless of type, should be carefully kept from children or anyone who might drink it.

The important consideration is to insist on knowing what precautions the maker recommends and to observe them to the letter.

FEBRUARY PLENTIFUL FOODS
You will find plenty of red tart cherries at your grocery store for Valentine and Washington's Birthday cherry pies. Cherries are at the top of the February Plentiful foods list. Other foods on the list are apples, canned ripe olives, prunes, eggs, broiler-fryers and split peas.

After nylon curtains have been laundered, they often lose their to offset seasonal differences. Tables also show list percent, staple length, strength, earliness, micronaire and gross value per acre for each variety.

More attention is given to fiber fineness than ever before, Mr. Dick said. Also many textile mills are now greatly interested in fiber strength as well as staple length. Mississippi cotton is being improved in all these factors, he said.

WHAT DOES IT ALL ADD UP TO?

In the well-known city where this young fellow is growing up crime has shown a steady in-crease for more than a decade. And many of the convicted of-fenders aren't old enough to vote. Rough-looking "kidd" loiter on the street corners with nothing to do. Smooth-looking "kidd" flash by in cars with no place to go. The police patrol certain beats with dogs — hungrily alone cannot cope with the situa-tion.

But this young fellow must grow up nevertheless. And for him . . . for the community . . . for the nation . . . tomorrow de-pends on how he grows up!

It all adds up to the most cry-ing need of our time: early, con-stituting, determined moral and religious instruction. It demands spiritual awareness in our homes. It requires resolute, sac-rificial support of our churches.

In every city, village and ham-let an awakened nation is mus-tering its total spiritual re-sources . . . seeking God's help . . . and seeking yours . . .

WOMEN IN POVERTY TOO, ACCORDING REPORTS
ATLANTA, GA. — (Special), Over 14 million women 16 years of age or more are living in poverty in the United States, Miss Dianne McKaig, regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Women's Bureau said here. This is 40 percent of the 35 million persons reported to be living in poverty throughout the nation.

"These women are well acquainted with the kind of depressing, impoverished existence which is touching the conscience of America," Miss McKaig said. About 10.5 million live in families with incomes under $3,000 a year, including 6.7 million wives living with their husbands, 2.3 more as family heads, some one half million 18-17 year old daughters who live at home, and about 1.2 million other women who live with relatives.

"Recent Women's Bureau data also show that 3.5 million women, who do not live in a family group, receive less than $1,500 a year," the Women's Bureau official stated.

According to statistics, women who live in poverty, particularly included those who are poorly educated and unskilled, elderly or infirm, members of a minority group, and residents of an economically declining community.

TEXAS FIRM AWARDED CONTRACT OVER $4 MILLION
GAINESVILLE, Miss. — Chaney and James Construction Company, Incorporated, of Richardson, Texas, has been awarded a contract for $4,353,000, at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Operations, for the construction of a stage storage and checkout building for the S-II stage of the Saturn V moon rocket.

The contract was awarded today by the Army Corps of Engineers, Mobile District, construction agent for NASA at the Mississippi site. MTO is being established in Hancock County to static test the first two stages of the Saturn V rocket.

In addition to the S-II building, the contract calls for the construction of a service building for cryogenic barges at the facility. The S-II storage and checkout building will be used to receive and store the stages, prepare and check them out prior to test firing, perform minor rework, and repackaging for shipment to Cape Kennedy. The barge service building will serve as the base of operations and maintenance shop for the fleet of liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen barges serving MTO.

This is the third contract awarded to Chaney and James for work at MTO. The firm is currently at work on the S-IC stage storage building and RP-1 dock under a $3.8 million contract awarded a year ago. The company is also constructing moving devices under another contract.

SOUTHERN BELL TO SPEND MILLIONS IN MISS. IN 1965
Southern Bell Telephone Company today announced that it expects to construct in excess of $60 million in new facilities in Mississippi in 1965.
"We'll invest this large amount for new facilities to better serve our customers and further expand telephone service over the state," said Clarence Lott, vice-president and general manager.
The anticipated expenditure will be "as much as we had invested in facilities in Mississippi at the end of 1947, after 22 years of telephone operations by Southern Bell in Mississippi. It will be 25% more than the average of our huge five-year 1960-64 construction and 55% greater than in 1960, just five years ago. The 1960-64 five-year construction in Mississippi amounted to $121 million.
"The 1965 plans for capital investments by the Company reflect the fast and continuing pace of progress in Mississippi and our confidence in the state in the future."
A significant portion of the construction expenditure is possible because of the federal corporate income tax reduction. Southern Bell will be able to apply some of its tax savings to help support increased capital expenditures which otherwise would not have been feasible, Mr. Lott said.
Mr. Lott said Southern Bell, which serves over 545,000 telephones in Mississippi, will invest the $30 million throughout the state for many things.
About $10.3 million is earmarked for new central office equipment; $1.4 million for land and new or enlarged buildings; $12.2 million for cable, poles and supplies for outside plant; $6.8 million for PBX and station equipment and $600,000 for general equipment.
"Some of that money will go for things the public can easily see," said Mr. Lott. "However, much of the money will go for complex, behind-the-scenes equipment to provide more and better telephone service."
Mr. Lott said much of the 1965 expenditures will be required to meet service requests, but that facilities also will be engineered where possible to allow further expansion to meet future demands.
Southern Bell's present total plant investment in serving Mississippi is about $240 million; its payroll to over 4,500 Mississippians is about $28.55 million annually, and its operating taxes in Mississippi during 1964 will be about $22 million.
In addition, Southern Bell's payment to Mississippi manufacturers and businesses for purchases and services, construction and maintenance contracts, rental and utilities total several million dollars annually.

HCARC News Notes
In October, 1961, the late President John F. Kennedy appointed a panel of distinguished scientists, educators, and laymen to prepare a national plan to combat mental retardation -- one of the most pernicious and neglected afflictions of mankind.
The panel was asked to review present programs and needs; as certain gaps in research, diagnosis, treatment, service, and coordination; and to recommend a program of action.
The panel submitted its report to the President in October, 1962. The main recommendations in the final report were as follows:
1. RESEARCH in the causes of retardation and methods of care, rehabilitation, and learning.
2. PREVENTIVE HEALTH MEASURES including (a) a greatly strengthened program of maternal and infant care directed at the centers of population where, prematurity and the rate of "damaged" children are high; (b) protection against such known hazards to pregnancy as radiation and harmful drugs; and (c) extended diagnostic and screening services.
3. STRENGTHENED EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS GENERAL- AND EXTENDED AND ENHANCED PROGRAMS OF SPECIAL EDUCATION in public and private schools closely coordinated with vocational guidance, vocational rehabilitation, and specific training and preparation for employment; education for the adult mentally retarded, and workshops geared to their needs.
4. MORE COMPREHENSIVE AND IMPROVED CLINICAL AND SOCIAL SERVICES.
5. IMPROVED METHODS AND FACILITIES FOR CARE, with emphasis on the home and the development of a wide range of local community facilities.
6. A NEW LEGAL, AS WELL AS SOCIAL, CONCEPT OF THE RETARDED, including protection of their rights; life guardianship provisions when needed; an enlightened attitude on the part of the law and the courts; and clarification of the theory of responsibility in criminal acts.
7. HELPING OVERCOME THE SERIOUS PROBLEMS OF MAN-POWER as they affect the entire field of science and every type of service through extended programs of recruiting with fellowships, and increased opportunities for graduate students, and those preparing for the professions to observe and learn at firsthand about the phenomenon of retardation. Because there will never be a fully adequate supply of personnel in this field and for other cogent reasons, the panel has emphasized the need for more volunteers in health, recreation, and welfare activities, and for a National Service Corps to stimulate voluntary service.
8. PROGRAMS OF EDUCATION AND INFORMATION TO INCREASE PUBLIC AWARENESS of the problem of mental retardation.
The national headquarters of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce is in Tulsa, Oklahoma.
